

INTouch

with the Georgian Triangle

Linwood Barclay

Those who are fortunate enough to be in Collingwood this weekend have the opportunity for a rare treat! The ever smart, humorous Toronto Star columnist, author and now Public Speaker, Linwood Barclay, will be featured at The Huron House restaurant on Saturday February 24, 2007. Barclay, who joined The Toronto Star in 1981 holding various titles, made his best move in 1993 to the daily Humour Columnist.

The author of seven published books, Linwood started his writing career in 1986 with his first published title, "Father Knows Zilch". Since then he has launched several other books including the popular Zach Walter mystery series, the first one Bad Move, followed by Bad Guys and Lone Wolf.

The Huron House is highlighting a three course dinner menu with a variety of choices. The festivities begin at 6:30 p.m. Hurry up and reserve your seats at 705-446-0808 as the House will be full!

Read more about Linwood Barclay by visiting his website at www.linwoodbarclay.com.

INTouch with the Georgian Triangle is a monthly community publication about points of interest in the community we love to enjoy. It is published once a month and also includes periodic "INTouch Flashes" that will be sent to you as news happens, during the month, that you just can't wait for. All this can be yours for just $2.00 per month*. Sent to you electronically, to stay INTouch, go to intouchwithgt.com

"INTouch" Flash